

Gary Morgan

Gary Morgan has over 20 years' experience as a board director, executive and consultant developing and driving innovation, strategy, business performance, international collaboration and growth in organisations. He is Expert in Residence at the University of New England, an Adjunct Professor at Queensland University of Technology, and has co-authored several papers that have been published in prestigious medical journals.

